Financial situation of the banking sector for 9 months of 2022

During the first 9 months of 2022, the National Bank of Moldova (NBM) continued the process of prudential supervision of banks in the Republic of Moldova, pursuing compliance with legal requirements, to ensure the stability and viability of the banking system.

According to data submitted by banks, the banking sector is characterized by the growth of assets, loans, own funds, the rate of own funds and bank deposits. The profit of the year as compared to the similar period of the previous year has increased, mainly due to the increase in interest income and non-interest income.

At the same time, the volume of deposits of individuals and legal entities decreased. There was also an increase in the absolute value of expired and non-performing loans and, as a result, a worsening of the quality indicators of the loan portfolio compared to the end of the previous year.

As of 30.09.2022, 11 banks licensed by the National Bank of Moldova were active in the Republic of Moldova. One bank was supervised under the early intervention regime applied on 11.01.2019. Following the changes registered in the bank's shareholding structure, the management boards were completed. Subsequently, the Executive Board of the NBM decided:

- to revoke and terminate the mandates of temporary administrators with membership powers of the Management Committee.
- to extend the appointment period of the temporary administrator with the powers of chairperson of the Board of the bank until 25.04.2023.

Compliance with prudential requirements

Thus, the value of the long-term liquidity indicator (liquidity principle I) constituted 0.74 (≤ 1 limit), ranging from 0.33 to 0.86, depending on the bank, being at the same level as at the end of 2021.

Liquidity principle III, which represents the ratio between the adjusted actual liquidity and the required liquidity on each maturity band and which must not be less than 1 on each maturity band, has also been respected by all banks, ranging from 1.36, on the maturity band up to one month inclusive, to 134.39 on the maturity band between 1 and 3 months inclusive.

The liquidity coverage indicator by sector amounted to 174.4% (limit $\geq 80\%$ - as of January 1 2022), ranging from 117.2% to 508.4%, decreasing by 183.9 percentage points compared to the end of the previous year.

As of 30.09.2022, the banks complied with the prudential indicators regarding large exposures and exposures to their related parties.

During the third quarter of 2022, the activities related to the promotion of Basel III requirements continued, by updating, developing, and finalizing the drafts of the secondary normative acts (requirements for the bank's recovery plan, requirements to cover the liquidity requirement, regarding the leverage effect, capital buffers, the net stable funding ratio (NSFR), and the requirements for independent thinking of the management board), which shall complete the secondary normative framework for the application of the provisions of Law No. 202/2017 on the activity of banks.
