NBM started Global Money Week 2021 in the Republic of Moldova

Today started Global Money Week in the Republic of Moldova with the title "Give sense to money". The event, promoted for several years by the National Bank of Moldova (NBM), as the national coordinator of the financial education process, was attended by authorities, institutions and associations with various activity profiles.

"Financial education reflects a public interest and the development of this process at different levels and for various target groups, with the involvement of authorities and civil society confirms a reality of the modern world in continuous and rapid change," said the NBM Governor, Octavian Armașu, at the opening of the event.

The official said that financial education offers the possibility of free advice for the whole population on how they could use their personal financial resources efficiently, save and possibly invest based on well thought-out financial decisions and obtain encouraging financial results.

Thus, the NBM will organize, during 22-26 March 2021, a series of activities, including Moldova Banking Hub - the financial education platform for pupils, students and teachers, as well as the public information and awareness campaign on the security of payments without cash, loans, investments, etc. There will also be training courses for future journalists, as well as workshops for the general public. At the same time, virtual visits will be organized in the NBM exhibition hall.

"The ultimate goal is for financial education to help people, depending on their needs and circumstances, make decisions that will contribute to better financial risk management and a more stable financial system, to achieve balance, financial protection and well-being in perspective ", concluded the NBM Governor, Octavian Armașu.
