Registration begins for the Financial Education Camp "Give sense to money", second edition

The second edition of the Financial Education Camp "Give sense to money", initiated by the National Bank of Moldova and the Independent Think Tank "Expert-Grup", comes with the opportunity to offer the public a more interesting and fulfilling vacation.

Thus, people over the age of 16 have the opportunity to participate, between 9-13 August 2021, in an online event designed to bring together those who want to develop their financial culture, in an atmosphere of useful, pleasant and efficient conversation.

The financial education camp includes five sessions of 90 minutes each on various topics in the financial and banking field. They will help participants to better understand how the financial system works, what is the role of the National Bank of Moldova, what to pay attention to when taking a loan, how to safely use cashless payment methods, etc.

The training will take place in Romanian language on the ZOOM platform. Finally, participants in all sessions will receive a certificate of participation.

Interested persons can register, filling in until 5 August 2021 the on-line application [1], indicating the e-mail address to which the event access data is to be sent.

During the workshop, the organizers aim to bring more clarity in understanding the modern financial world that requires everyone to make optimal decisions every day, to make everyone's life easier and better in terms of financial inclusion.
