High-level conference "Post-pandemic economic recovery: realities and prospects"

The National Bank of Moldova will organize tomorrow, 4 June 2021, a high-level conference entitled "Economic recovery in the post-pandemic period: realities and prospects". It is designed within all events organized to mark the 30th anniversary of the NBM's founding and reaffirms the central bank's commitment to working with citizens and businesses to fulfill its mandate.

The conference will bring together officials of the Republic of Moldova and international organizations, governors of central banks from other states, representatives of local commercial banks, the business environment, as well as economic policy experts. The meeting will provide an opportunity for a global exchange of views on the whole planet, in particular on the role of central banks in meeting challenges and identifying opportunities in the post-pandemic period.

Thus, the conference agenda will focus on issues related to financial stability, addressing systemic risk, policies to support the economy, the need for rapid adaptation to innovative technologies and the development of new visions on the next steps. Existing uncertainties raise many questions for authorities, central banks and market players to mobilize their efforts to comply with the new time requirements.

The issue comes in the need to overcome the current crisis with resistance, which has caused colossal economic damage and has had severe consequences on the lives of citizens.

The meeting will take place online and will be broadcasted live on all communication platforms of the National Bank (pagina web [1], Facebook [2], Youtube [3]), as well as on https://www.privesc.eu/ [4] and https://rlive.md/ [5]
