Governor Anca Dragu met with Eugen Tomac, Member of the European Parliament

The Governor of the National Bank of Moldova (NBM), Anca Dragu, had a bilateral meeting with MEP Eugen Tomac during her working visit to Brussels.

During the discussions with Mr. Eugen Tomac, emphasis was placed on the importance of the European Parliament's continued support for the Republic of Moldova's progress towards the European Union. In this context, the leading role of the NBM in the negotiation process was highlighted, particularly in three key chapters: free movement of capital, financial services, and economic and monetary policy.

"The National Bank of Moldova is actively engaged in legislative, institutional, and functional transformations aimed at strengthening a predictable and competitive financial framework. We are working to ensure that all citizens benefit from the same secure and accessible financial services as in European countries. It is our firm commitment to support Moldova's EU accession through concrete actions to build a stable, resilient, and inclusive economy," emphasised the NBM Governor.

The dialogue also provided an opportunity to emphasise the importance of exchanging experience and close cooperation with European institutions, which is necessary for adopting best European practices, strengthening public confidence in the financial system, and building a competitive economy that ensures better living conditions for the citizens of the Republic of Moldova.
