Career Week at the NBM: Young people discover career opportunities in the financial and banking sector

[1]

ÎFrom 24 to 28 November 2025, the National Bank of Moldova (NBM) will hold the third edition of "Career Week at the NBM". The event continues the tradition initiated three years ago and brings together hundreds of students and professionals interested in exploring the opportunities and prospects of a career in the financial and banking sector.

The event offers attendees interactive sessions, practical workshops, inspirational presentations, and forums for dialogue with experts from the National Bank, where they can discover how the NBM contributes to the country's economic and financial stability. At the same time, information will be made available to those interested about internship programs, employment opportunities within the institution, and professional development opportunities.

The Governor of the NBM, Ms. Anca Dragu, emphasises that the central bank encourages active involvement of young people in the country's economic development and maintains constant dialogue with future professionals in the field.

“At the National Bank of Moldova, knowledge and innovative ideas find the most fertile ground for development. We guide ourselves by principles of integrity and professionalism, and every young person who crosses our threshold and participates in internships or applied experiences has the chance to become a member of a dedicated team, fully committed to the mission of strengthening the financial system, thus contributing to improving the quality of life of citizens,” stresses Anca Dragu, Governor of the National Bank.

The event also includes a series of visits by the NBM team to educational institutions across the country, where thematic presentations and dialogue sessions with students will be organised. These meetings aim to bring the academic environment closer to the realities of the financial system and encourage direct communication between young people and experts from the National Bank.

Through this event, we aim to provide young people with a real perspective on the role and impact of the National Bank in the economy. At the same time, we want to show them that the financial and banking sector offers opportunities for creativity, continuous learning, and civic engagement.

Now in its third edition, "Career Week at the NBM" reflects the National Bank's commitment to fostering dialogue with the academic community, supporting the professional development of young people, and promoting excellence and innovation in the financial and banking sector.
